👤 About Me

You can find my latest projects on my GitHub or website as I keep working to improve myself and my work.

Before I became a developer, I managed international teams and events for the past five years, responsible for a tech giant's internal catering services and external events.

In a "stay-at-home" era, I've produced and also presented virtual cooking/barista classes for a number of tech companies.

📁 Latest Projects

HomeBar App, Ruby | HTML | SCSS | JS 📄

The App is simple to use; Select the ingredients you have at home, so the app tells which cocktails you can make, or you're just a few ingredients away. It's like having a bartender at your fingertip.

- Project owner and lead
- Designed, implemented and tested the algorithm
- Devise and other gem integrations

Freddies Fiets, Ruby | HTML | SCSS | JS 📄

The First Full-Stack project ever(!) is a marketplace to rent or lease a bike.

- Vanilla JS for navbar transition and typed JS
- Seeding, Cloudinary and Mapbox API integration
- Full-Stack development
